

STELLARIS™

Dear Teacher,

We're sorry to inform you that _____ will not be able to attend their classes today, as they are pre-occupied with the uplifting of primitive species, as well as their own intellect. While we are certain your educational establishment is excellent, it is no substitute for the harsh school of intergalactic empire building.

By playing Stellaris _____ is learning not only about the wonders of space exploration, a trait that might further them into a career at NASA or similar, but also about the value of strategic partnerships, a stable economy, and governmental policies. In fact, you should probably award _____ some extra credits for their commitment to one day bring man-kind to the stars!

Sincerely

Fredrik Wester, CEO @ Paradox Interactive
